URBAN ROOTS
When Everything Collapses Plant Your Field of Dreams

Urban Roots is a timely, moving and inspiring film that tells the story of the emergence of urban farming amid the decay of post-industrial Detroit. Against all odds, seeds of change are taking root in the empty lots, old factory yards and deserted company housing areas where people are reimagining their future by growing food.

Hosts: Jennifer and Phillip Lucas (Victoria Urban Farm, Urban Planning Society), Sol Kinoshita (City of Victoria Community Planning), Sol Kinoshita (City Harvest), & Gabe Epstein (George Trilcum Urban Farmers)
